Key Terminology

• Suicidal Ideator – person who thinks about suicide as a way to eliminate pain, still has hope that things will get better, talks about fear of dying, usually seeks counseling

• Suicide Attempt – the activity of a completer that is interrupted

• Hopeless – fatalistic despair, the problem can not be solved

• Helpless – self-defeating or self-hate, I cannot solve the problem

• Self-Mutilation/Self-harm – non-suicidal self-injurious behaviors such as cutting, scarring, burning & hair pulling
The Jason Flatt Act
(KSA 72-8260)

• Passed by the Kansas Legislature and signed by the governor - Spring 2016

• Each school district/school will provide suicide awareness and prevention training for ALL school personnel

• Requires at least 1 hour of suicide awareness and prevention training annually (approved by the State BOE)

• Parents and guardians will be notified and training materials made available for review

• Each building will develop a crisis plan that includes: recognition of suicide ideation; appropriate interventions; and a crisis recovery plan
History & Background

• Jason Flatt, a 16 year old from Tennessee, enjoyed going places and trying new things. He was a good student who loved sports, especially football. He had lots of friends and seemed to be full of life.

• Jason died by suicide on July 16, 1997. His family has been raising awareness of teen suicide ever since.

• In 2001, The Jason Foundation began advocating for legislation to include suicide awareness and prevention training in teacher in-service.

• In 2007, Tennessee was the first state to pass the Jason Flatt Act, the nation’s most inclusive and mandatory youth suicide awareness and prevention legislation.

• Kansas was the 19th state to pass the Jason Flatt Act.

Indicators Related to Suicide

Indicators may be observed in an individual who is suicidal or experiencing suicidal ideation. Verbal or behavioral clues can be good predictors. However, approximately 5% of individuals who complete an act of suicide never exhibit any symptoms or indicators.

- Putting personal affairs in order
- Giving away prized possessions
- Sudden interest or disinterest in religion
- Increased interest in death and dying
- Unexplained anger, aggression, irritability or mood change
- Direct expressions of suicidal ideation or intent such as “I wish I were dead.” or “I’m going to kill myself.”
More Indicators Related to Suicide

• Indirect expressions of suicidal ideation or intent such as “I wish I could go to sleep and never wake up.” or “Everyone would be better off without me.”

• Stockpiling of pills or weapons

• Change in interaction with family and friends

• Recent disappointment or rejection

• Sudden decline or improvement in academic performance

• Increased apathy

• Feelings of hopelessness, that things will not get better

• Feelings of being a burden to loved ones
You Can Help!

Responses if you notice WARNING SIGNS...

Ask if they are ok or if they are having thoughts of suicide
Express concern about what you are observing in their behavior
Listen attentively and non-judgmentally
Reflect what they share and let them know they have been heard
Tell them they are not alone
Let them know there are treatments available that can help
Guide them to additional professional help
Starting a Conversation

- I have been feeling concerned about you lately.
- I have noticed some differences in you recently and wondered how you are doing?
- I wanted to check in with you because you haven’t seemed yourself lately.

Questions to Ask

- When did you begin feeling like this?
- Did something happen that made you start feeling this way?
- How can I best support you right now?
- Have you thought about getting help?

Helpful Things to Say

- You are not alone in this. I’m here for you..
- You may not believe it now, but the way you’re feeling will change.
- I may not be able to understand exactly how you are feeling, but I care about you and want to help.
- When you want to give up, tell yourself that you can hold off for just one more day, hour, minute - whatever you can manage.

Ask Directly!

Are you thinking about killing yourself?

Have you had thoughts of suicide?
It’s Important to ASK...

Asking about suicide does not put the thought of killing oneself in someone’s head. It gives them a sense of relief that someone is finally hearing them and will LISTEN.

Ask these important questions in a sensitive, non-judgmental, direct way.

Are you thinking about killing yourself?

Have you had thoughts of suicide?

Follow up Questions

• How are you coping with what’s been happening in your life?
• Do you ever feel like just giving up?
• Are you thinking about hurting yourself?
• Have you thought about suicide or tried to harm yourself before?
• Have you thought about how or when?
• Do you have access to weapons or things that can be used as weapons to harm yourself?

The Johnson County Suicide Prevention Coalition helps individuals and families in Johnson County who are affected by suicide by providing preventative resources, education, and community partnerships. In November 2012, Johnson County Mental Health Center (JCMHC) hosted a gathering of more than 150 community partners to discuss the alarmingly increasing rates of suicide in our community. Representatives from healthcare, education, law enforcement, local government, and other sectors shared concerns and brainstormed next steps for local prevention strategies. Coalition goals and initiatives are based on local data and identified need, as well as priorities in the National Strategy for Suicide Prevention.
